GREAT BATTLE STILL RAGES AT 'LABYRINTH'

French Make Slight Gains in a Terrific Combat North of Arras.

Paris, June 4.—There is no lull in the great battle north of Arras. In the region of the "Labyrinth," the war office announced yesterday, the French have made further progress. They have taken 800 prisoners there since May 31. The official statement follows: "In the region to the north of Arras artillery fighting was continued during last night. There was also some very violent infantry fighting to the east of Notre Dame de Lorette, but the positions here on neither one side nor the other have undergone any change. There was also infantry fighting in the region of the 'Labyrinth,' where we made some progress."

"We have made a total of 800 prisoners since May 31 in the 'Labyrinth.' Of these nine are officers and about fifty under officers. Here we also captured two machine guns. "On the rest of the front there has been nothing to report."

QUINCY GRANITE ITEMS.

All Quarries Are Now Busy Getting Out Stock, Says Ledger.

"The new chimney being erected at the plant of the Granite Railway Co. will be the largest in the city. The structure is now up about 70 feet. It is constructed of white fire bricks and the name 'Granite Railway Co.' is being worked into it in black brick. When finished the building will be completed and the new boilers will be installed."

"The polls in the election of the Granite Cutters' International union close at the receipt of the last mail to-day. The votes will then be counted, put in type-written form, and submitted to the executive council of the union, which will announce the winners in a few days. Have you, Mr. Granite Cutter of this city, done your duty to your city and voted for Mr. Duncan, our local man, and thus kept a good man in office? Won't a man who has served you faithfully and well for the past 20 years be better than an untried man you do not know?"

"Memorial day is past for the year 1915 and the local men will now start out with new vim to make the summer season a busy one. Although several cutters were laid off Saturday they will all be returned to work as soon as the manufacturers can get stock for them. Several of the local dealers are reported to have secured several contracts on the holiday. The granite yards throughout the city look pretty well depleted after the amount of work which was set in different cemeteries during the past week."

"Several large monuments are under construction at the yard of J. N. White & Sons on Miller street, among them being the firemen's memorial for the city of Waltham."

"The new monuments recently set in Mt. Wollaston came in for a goodly amount of praise as well as criticism on the holiday. The new memorials added greatly to the appearance of the cemetery."

"All of the quarries are now very busy getting out stock to supply the demands of the dealers, who have been so busy with their Memorial day work that they could not get time to order the stock for their summer orders."—Quincy (Mass.) Ledger.

Premier Salandra Speaks on Reasons for Italy's Action

REVIEWS EVENTS PRECEDING WAR

Duties Imposed on Those at Home, as Well as the Combatants

Rome, June 2, via Paris, June 3.—"We entered this, the greatest war in history, to safeguard the highest and most ancient aspirations, the most vital interests of our country," was the declaration of Premier Salandra in an address of the meeting held here yesterday to make plans for the relief of persons in civil life who may be made needy as the result of the war.

"War imposes duties not only upon the combatants but also upon those who remain at home," continued the premier, "and they must see that the national life is not interrupted. Italians of all classes must not only have a spontaneous and profound feeling but a reasoned conviction of the justice of our cause and the sanctity of our war."

Premier Salandra then reviewed the diplomatic events leading up to the conflict from the time of the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand. Italy's former allies, he declared, had no right to say Italy betrayed them, for she never disguised her views on Austrian aggression against Serbia and its consequences. Premier Salandra asserted that on July 27 and 28, 1914, the Italian government raised in clear terms the question of the cession to Italy of the so-called Italian provinces held by Austria, both at Vienna and Berlin.

"We declared," said he, "that if Italy did not obtain adequate compensation the triple alliance would be irreparably broken. Impartial history will say that Austria, having found in July and October, 1913, that Italy was hostile to aggressive intentions against Serbia, arranged with Germany to take Europe by surprise by confronting it with an accomplished fact. The horrible crime at Sarajevo was exploited as a pretext a month after it occurred. Foreign Minister Von Berchtold told the duke of Avarna on July 31 last, that even if mediation were employed it would not stop hostilities with Serbia."

"It was not true as Count Tisza has pretended, that Austria engaged herself to respect the integrity of Serbian territory. Kajetan Meray Von Kapos-Mere, then Austrian ambassador, told Marquis San Giuliano July 30 that Austria could not give such an engagement because she could not foresee that during the war she would not be forced against her will to retain Serbian territory. In addition, Count Von Berchtold declared to the duke of Avarna on Aug. 28 last, that he was not disposed to give any undertaking relative to the eventual action of Austria in case of a conflict with Serbia."

en gathered to discuss the "war baby" problem in the Palladium yesterday afternoon.

The suffragists intend to create a model institution to care for as many as possible, Mrs. Pankhurst declared. "But we hope that the government will later take over the institution and nationalize it," she said.

Mrs. Pankhurst announced that voluntary contributions for establishing the "war baby" home already total $20,000. Mrs. Pankhurst said she made her estimate on the number of illegitimate children to be born during the first year of the war from figures furnished her by Mrs. Bramwell Booth, wife of the Salvation Army leader.

She brought enthusiastic cheers from the women when she denounced the present laws regarding illegitimate children as "most cruel" and expressed the hope that the government would soon alter them.

Following her appeal on behalf of the "war babies," Mrs. Pankhurst launched into a severe criticism of English women who have failed to do their part in the war.

BILLARD FILES A PLEA OF IMMUNITY

He Bases It on Having Given Testimony Before the Grand Jury and Commerce Commission.

New York, June 4.—By permission of the federal court a plea of immunity was filed yesterday by John L. Billard to the indictment charging him and 20 former and present New Haven railroad directors with criminal violation of the anti-trust law. Mr. Billard claims immunity from prosecution because he gave testimony before the grand jury and the interstate commerce commission. These are practically identical contentions with those contained in his former plea of abatement, which was denied by Judge Grubb. The court set next Wednesday for the appearance of Edward D. Robbins to hear judgment on his motion for immunity. Mr. Robbins was to have appeared yesterday. His counsel explained that he was detained in New Haven.

WITH WILSON ON MEXICO

Foreign Diplomats Approve the Course of the President

WHAT "ACTIVE MORAL SUPPORT" MEANS

It Probably Would Bring an Arms Embargo

Washington, D. C., June 4.—News of how President Wilson's demand on the leaders of the various military factions in Mexico for prompt restoration of peace is being received by them was awaited yesterday with intense interest in official and diplomatic quarters.

The president's statement, which was sent to Generals Carranza, Villa, Zapata and others, publicly called upon them to settle their differences quickly and establish a government which the United States can recognize. The president warned them that failure to do so "within a very short time" would constrain the United States "to decide what means should be employed" to save the Mexican people from further devastations of internal warfare.

Foreign diplomats here express approval of the president's course.

The communication was interpreted by officials, diplomats and Mexicans here to mean that the United States would bring pressure to bear first to unite the factions in the choice of a provisional president. Failing in that, the United States would accord its active support to the elements that did agree. Possibility of ultimate intervention was considered. That would result, however, only in the event of a reign of anarchy which the Mexicans themselves were unable to remedy. Speculation continued yesterday as to what the American government meant by lending its active moral support "to some man or group of men, if such may be found, in an effort to ignore, if they cannot unite, the warring factions of the country."

The official explanation was that the United States heretofore had maintained neutrality as between the factions, but now was preparing to choose between them or to give its support to those elements in the existing factions which gave most promise of success. The United States would aid the chosen elements by issuing an embargo on arms preventing the shipment of war munitions and cutting off other means of support to the factions which ignored the demand for peace.

Distribution of American Red Cross relief supplies has begun in Monterey. Consul-General Hanna yesterday reported that one car of corn, one car of beans, and a car of flour had arrived. The people are not allowed to buy more than three pounds of either at one time. The Red Cross will push on supplies to other interior points as transportation facilities are restored.

Five persons, nationality unreported, were killed in a raid by Mexicans on Querobabi Tuesday night. State department dispatches from Nogales yesterday say that after looting the town the raiders burned five railway bridges.

A Vera Cruz dispatch, dated June 1, says the crowd gathered there Monday to buy the daily food supply was exhausted. The government's store was exhausted.

STARVING MEXICO.

International Relief Committee Appeals for Aid.

Washington, D. C., June 4.—An appeal to the Red Cross from the international relief committee in Mexico City, sent through the Brazilian minister there, was made public yesterday. It follows:

"We appeal for starving Mexico. Government supplies nearly exhausted. No prospect relief. Conditions of disorder, lack of seed, men and animals and insecurity of harvest prevent planting. Situation this city desperate account shortage food and medical supplies. Regular railway service between city and border, Aguascalientes and the coast, suspended since February. Imperative need everywhere is corn. Also urgently require flour and medicine. Only hope is from United States. We endeavoring all possible, but resources entirely inadequate."

GERMAN FIRE WRECKS YPRES CHURCH TOWER

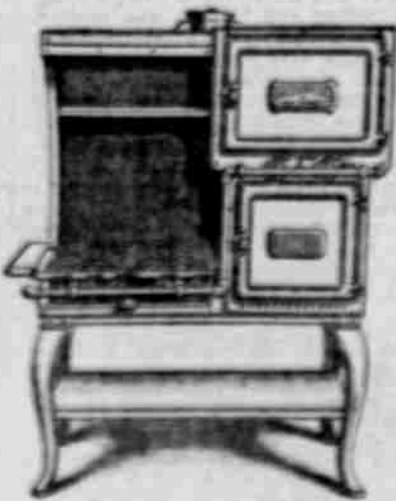

Berlin Says German Artillerymen Destroyed Tower Because British Used It as Observation Post.

Berlin, via wireless to London, June 4. German artillerymen have destroyed the tower of St. Martin's church at Ypres because they found that the British were using it as an observation post, the war office announced yesterday afternoon.

"The battle near Hooge, where the British are strongly fortified, continues favorable to us," said the official statement. "On the Souchez-Neuveville front heavy fighting is going on. The fight around the Comber sugar mill continues, the French losing heavily. Our victory here has hampered the Remembrance railway junction and the French camp at Hohens."
